

LifeNet North America Presents:

The Power of Sacred Landscape

What: A Geomancy Workshop with Ana Pogacnik

When: October 12-15, 2011 (Travel days: October 11 and 16)

Ana says: "The Earth is in a process of transformation, and as a result new ways are emerging and opening for humans to support the potential of a landscape. New doors are opening to the deep underlying powers of the Earth and Cosmos, as well as new possibilities and ways to recognize them and bring them into manifestation. Through the changes it is possible to get into even more heartfelt contact with the beings of the landscape."

"The area of Black Hills is connected with the landscape around the Great Lakes, which is like a fontanel for the Planet Earth. It is holding a very strong spiritual connection, and in this way it is performing a very special and important task for the whole Planet. I experience the landscape of the Black Hills as one of the most important portals into this knowledge of the place of the Fontanel and in that way also into the spiritual dimensions of the Earth. In my dreams I have experienced how crucial the work with this area of the Black Hills is for our Planet. The Earth is calling us! Join us as we explore the energetic qualities of this landscape and engage in personal transformation and connection to the power of this sacred landscape to support the transformation of the Earth."

Cost. Total cost of the workshop, lodging, meals, and local transportation is $550.

Arrival Details. The nearest airport is Rapid City (RAP is the airport code). Several attendees are driving and will provide local transportation. We will also rent another van for our local transportation needs and airport runs. Since this is rather remote area and there are not hundreds of flights into Rapid City daily, please schedule your flights in and out of Rapid City in the middle part of the day (i.e. the afternoon) so no one will have to wait too long at the airport for others to arrive or depart.

Lodging and Meals. Lodging has been reserved for up to 25 attendees at the High Country Guest Ranch located 4 miles from Hill City, SD. We will share several cabins with bedrooms, bathrooms, kitchens and cooking utensils. We will prepare our own healthy and vegetarian meals for the group at our cabins.

Registration. PLEASE SEND A $200 DEPOSIT ($100 is NON-REFUNDABLE) BY August 15, 2011. Balance is due by September 15. Please make checks payable to "LifeNet" and send to:
